Arrangements

The reservation is valid for the number of guests indicated by the customer according to the pre-agreed schedule.

Messukeskus Restaurants & Event Catering takes into account special diets individually without additional charge when announced in advance according to the delivery conditions, we prepare all products as lactose-free or low-lactose.

Delivery- and cancellation terms

We expect catering orders and special diets to be confirmed for event of less than 100 people 2 weeks before the event and more than 100 people 4 weeks before the event.

We reserve caterings for the confirmed number of people according to our delivery conditions.

The minimum invoicing basis for catering is the number of people confirmed before the event according to below:

less than 50 guests three (3) business days

50-250 guests seven (7) business days

more than 250 guests ten (10) business days

Invoicing takes place according to the confirmed number of guests or if it exceeds the stated number, according to the actual number.

If more guests come to the event than previously confirmed, we will do our best to organize additional catering and confirm from the event organizer on the spot verbally the billing confirmation for additional caterings.

If the number of participants or the nature of the event changes substantially, the restaurant has the right to renegotiate the details and costs of the event.

A confirmed catering order is binding.

The subscriber can cancel the order, in which case the charge will be as follows:

less than 50 guests

50% when cancellation takes place 5-14 business days before the event

100% when the cancellation takes place less than 4 business days before the event

50-250 guests

50% when the cancellation takes place 29-7 business days before the event

100% when the cancellation takes place 6 business days or later before the event

more than 250 guests

50 %, when the cancellation takes place 59-11 business days before the event

100% when the cancellation takes place 10 business days or later before the event

Force Majeure

A force majeure situation, such as a natural disaster, an order or prohibition imposed by an authority for reasons other than the party's own, a strike, fire, or other force majeure beyond the party's control that prevents the party from reasonably fulfilling its contractual obligations, entitles the party to terminate the contract and be released from its contractual obligations without liability for damages. The obstruction of the supplier's subcontractor due to the aforementioned reasons is also considered a force majeure for the supplier.
